පුතැතිරැති... (The text is a continuous line of handwritten Sinhala script, likely a religious or philosophical text, written in a cursive style. It contains many words that are difficult to transcribe accurately due to the cursive nature and some fading. The text appears to be a single line of a longer passage, possibly a verse or a section of a treatise. The characters are well-formed but the script is dense and flowing.

Handwritten text in a smaller script, likely a marginal note or a separate entry, located at the top left of the page.

Handwritten text in a larger script, likely the main body of the document, covering the majority of the page. The text is written in a cursive style and appears to be in a South Asian language, possibly Sanskrit or a related dialect. The script is dense and fills the page from top to bottom, with some lines being more prominent than others.
